

Notes 991 - 1000

991 Making Notes on the internal and external development of the RedGFU over many years, I have now reached Note number 1000. This gives me reason to make some reflections within the scheme of thesis, antithesis and synthesis, for a possible matisis. Opening the range of perspectives of my conscience, I can say that the Thesis is presented by the MSMA, the Antithesis by his First Disciple the MSHM, and the Synthesis by us as disciples of both, in the sense of Lineage. The possible Mathesis will be the use we make of this modern adventure of consciousness that we are living.

992 The Thesis is a new life cycle with its own characteristics in a New Age of Aquarius with a natural tendency toward Knowing. The Antithesis is the counterpart of Aquarius, with its force of Daring applied to unite faith and conscience with Knowledge to try to live with Wisdom. Both tendencies personalized in two exceptional Human Beings, Master Serge Raynaud de la Ferriere and Master José Manuel Estrada. The synthesis is outlined as a Great Universal Fraternity of diverse currents integrated under the inspiration of an Order of Initiates in the Living Wisdom. The Mathesis is a new attitude towards life that is outlined as happiness supported by health and consciousness constantly updated by the will of each Human Being according to his age, geography, culture and historical circumstances.

993 The project has managed to maintain itself within an epoch plagued by dramatic changes that involve all the positive and negative capacities of Human Beings, within the countless possibilities of our species and condition, beginning with the material body in constant transformation; with its vital force in constant production and consumption; in a mental structure that advances searching for its center of gravity among countless paradoxes; and with a spiritual aspiration that oscillates between love and freedom. As a result, a class of Human Beings is being produced that slowly advances fighting against radicalism and opens great possibilities to fill the enormous emptiness of surviving Power and a peremptory need of Being.

994 Power and Being, survival and transcendence, love and freedom, science and religion; and some brilliant and fleeting proposals, such as production and consumption that keeps creating new needs that abuse natural resources; with emotions pushed to their limits that revert into evasions of reality and irrational fears that lead to crime and war. In sciences and technologies at the service of power without conscience; or in scientific religions that handle material and spiritual terrorism as weapons of domination with promises that are always in the domains of death and contempt for life.

995 In the fields of the elevation of the Initiatic consciousness, in tune with the Aquarian Age of Knowledge, there is an insistence on maintaining figures of personages as models that become luminous shadows in the memory of their followers and generate exhausting and sterile struggles between the thus it was, thus it is and thus it will be for ever and ever AMEN; and the thus it was, now it is better and tomorrow it will be optimal and that is why we are here, in an Era of KNOWLEDGE; with arguments and attitudes that walk on the edge of fratricidal war and the denial of everything for which we fight. What is missing are well done deeds, in the material, moral, rational and spiritual aspects, personified in happy Human Beings with a sense of universality, that is to say, in Real Initiates.

996 The fact is that we have a great common project, with valid guidelines for an authentic overcoming, as individuals and as a species, which has polarized into two lines of development and several secondary lines that lean, by elective and selective affinities, toward one or the other of the two fundamental currents, necessary for the dynamics of conscious and actualized evolution, in accordance with the cosmic and historical process of our moment. Naturally, where there is life there is energy and energy needs to be transmuted by creation and recreation, by Initiation and reinitiation, or degraded by resistances, frictions and dilapidation. That is why we speak of well done deeds and this is emphasized by the fact that there are also bad deeds done by fools with initiative that are praised by both sides when it is convenient and discarded when they are useless. There is no evil; where works of art are made, garbage is produced that must be put in its place so that it does not dirty the works of art.

997 The most valuable thing with which we can correspond to the guidelines we have been given is the experience we have acquired. There are matters that are only learned as we go along and not just by good theories. One of these matters is mutual respect. We are in the Universe and each Universe is a set of sets of micro-universes that constitute original and unrepeatable projects, and moreover, doubly, in feminine and masculine in the human plane, positive and negative at the energy level. Women need men, with mutual respect, in order not to be unilateral, sterile and useless. Men need women simply to be able to exist and complement each other in order to overcome the animal condition and seek culture, civilization and consolidation of our aspiration to Freedom through Love. The fundamentalists of thus it was, thus it is and thus it will be, need the Estradistas, the walkers of the Path, those of thus it was, now it is better and tomorrow it will be optimal. Some so as not to become stagnant in a sterile and aggressive sect, and the others so as not to be too clever and wander around the skies like dull satellites.

998 The secondary currents, shamanists, esotericists, racists, narcissists, mysterious and simple fishermen of whatever falls, are channeled, according to their circumstances, when they see firmness, on one side or the other. These are not problems of substance, only of form.

999 Everything in its place and a place for everything. The water in the glass, the glass on the tablecloth and the tablecloth on the table. Reversing the places of things makes a mess, the Sublime Elder Brother repeated to us. The fact is that we are here and now, ready to go on, alone or in company. If we go on alone we will soon find company, for better or for worse. Such is life. If we respect and communicate with each other, each one can find a better place without betraying anyone, since we exist by the unity of diversity, or we disappear from a plane of life by dispersion to integrate again in a lower plane and begin again. That is the destiny.

1000 My hand is outstretched to salute, to wish health and to have PAX... and to join the four fingers with the thumb and to point to the Fifth Possibility, the Great Unknown, without neutralizing mixtures or truces to prepare more weapons....
